HALIFAX, Sunday, Aug. 7.

The steamship Nova Scotian, from Liverpool at 9 o'clock A. M. yesterday of the 27th ult., has passed this port on her way to Quebec.

The Canadian Prince was to leave Southampton on the same day for New-York.

The steamer North America, from New-York and Charleston, reached Greenock on the 26th.

The steamship Kangaroo left Southampton for New-York on the 30th.

THE PEACE CONFERENCE.

Nothing of moment has transpired in regard to the conference of Zurich, nor is it known whether Sardinia would take part.

A dispatch of the 30th from Rome, however, says that the Representatives of the Three Powers were expected to meet on the 31st of July.

It was vaguely rumored in Paris on the 29th, that Napoleon would visit London.

The Daily News believes that, although the scheme of an Italian Confederation may not have been formally struck off the programme, it is not now looked on by its author, and that little more will be heard of it.

The French fleet had sailed from London, and it was reported that a portion of the French army had begun to leave Italy.

Count Walewski had arrived in Paris from London. He said he had a cordial talk with Lord Cowley, and that England would give her adhesion to the Congress on condition of a general and immediate disarmament.

The Paris correspondent of the Times is informed that the English Government had offered to send a representative to the Congress, provided France disarmed; that the French Emperor agreed to do so, on condition that England did the same; that England consented on condition of a general disarmament by land and sea; that France will begin the movement, and that the English Government is very well satisfied with the conduct of the French Emperor.

The Independance Belge gives a report that the proposition for a disarmament, proceeded in the first instance from Napoleon.

It is asserted that a Military Convention between Prussia and Austria, relative to Italy, has been concluded, and that Lombardy is to take a fair share of the national debt. The Paris Moniteur of the 26th contains the following:

"It is ascertained in England to-day that it is not France the cause of the English national burdens, but the English people who desire merely to further the national economy, the improvement of our armaments is to justify a considerable increase of the Budget for the army and navy. A comparison of the Budgets of England and France will show that these considerations have been put forward. Since 1815 the army establishments of France have increased by two hundred million francs, and in 1860 a total of more than nine hundred and fifty million francs, while the French army budget for 1859 does not exceed three hundred and eighty-nine millions. One therefore asks, whether it is to France and her military armaments, that the heavy burdens which weigh on the English people, are to be attributed, or whether these enormous expenses and taxes, which are the consequence of these burdens, proceed from another cause."

The Paris Pays, referring to the above article from the Moniteur, says that France has done everything to free England from the nightmare of invasion in order to restore him to her calmness and repose. If unreasonable England can only answer herself for the future which might fail her, and which, if prolonged, would be an affront to the sincerity, friendly feelings and policy of France.

The Paris correspondent of the Herald says, that there is something like two hundred million francs unexpended out of the loan, and it is understood that the surplus is to be applied to the navy.

The Paris Patrie correspondent says there is the same disposition to treat on liberal grounds to assist England with her finances, and his informant considers the Anglo-French alliance now as ever necessary for the tranquility and prosperity of Europe.

The Paris correspondent of the Times says it was reported that Count Walewski had drawn out a plan for the Confederation of Italy, and submitted it confidentially to the Cabinet. Reminiscences of seven Sisters, and the Presidency is given nominally to the Pope, but really to the Kings of Sardinia and Naples alternately. Unwilling places to be garrisoned by Federal troops of Austria, Prussia, and Piedmont. The rules in the Federal Diet are to be determined on as follows: Prussia and Austria to each; the Papacy; Tuscany two; Sardinia and Naples each three.

GREAT BRITAIN.

In the House of Lords, on the 25th, Lord Lyveden, after declaring himself free from the charges made against him by Mr. Gregory, on account of the unwilling voice he had raised against the Admiralty, was aware that the French were hurrying their fleet with extreme rapidity.

The Duke of Somerset said he believed rifled cannon are being prepared for the French Fleet; and that, although England had not hitherto chosen in the course of manufacture, it would not be ready for some time to come.

In the House of Commons, Mr. Anderdon introduced improved defences for the Colonies, by means of increased local forces.

Sidney Herbert said the Government had ordered an inquiry on the subject.

Sidney Herbert moved a resolution, that in view of the existence between the great Military Powers of the Continent a combination be appointed, to inquire into the national defences of England, and report what improvements may be made therein.

Sidney Herbert said the Government would accept to the substance of the resolution, but not to the motion itself. The Government were about to appoint a committee, but the motion would be a censure for the earnestness of its endeavors to place the great arsenals of our country on a basis to resist all attacks.

It would be too extensive an inquiry for a commission to consider what force was necessary for the defence of the country. They would only inquire what permanent fortifications were necessary for the defences of the dock yards and arsenals.

Mr. Du Lacy Evans' resolution was negatived.

The proceedings of both Houses on the 26th were unimportant.

A fire at Liverpool on the 26th destroyed the extensive South Shore flour and saw mills. Four lives were lost, and many persons injured. Loss, £30,000 to £40,000, including a large quantity of grain.

A fire occurred on the same day in the brandy vaults of the London Docks; the damage was very considerable, and several lives were reported to have been lost.

A deputation from the British and Foreign Anti-Slavery Society, headed by Lord Shaftesbury, had an interview with the Duke of Newcastle in regard to Coolie emigration to the West Indies. They urged the appointment of a Committee of Inquiry, but the Duke said that the time would not permit this session, but an official inquiry should be instituted in the Colonies.

At a public meeting at Galway a letter was read from the Treasury Department, saying the Government could not comply with the demand to make Galway a harbor of refuge.

FRANCE.

It is said that the Emperor will make his public entry into Paris on Sunday, Aug. 14, at the head of that of the army of Italy. The troops will halt on the following day, for the usual Fête Napoléon.

After the 17th the Emperor proceeds, with the Empress, to the Pyrenees.

The Duke of Malakoff had been appointed Grand Chancellor of the Legion of Honor.

The Emperor had granted a pension of three thousand francs from his private purse to the mother of Gen. Abatt, killed in Italy.

It was reported that 200,000 men are to be discharged from the army on reduced footing. The advantage being that the Government will have them still on hand, while their cost can be diverted to other purposes.

The Paris Flour and Wheat Market was firm, owing to reports that the wheat crop will be less than has been anticipated. The provincial corn markets show firm and advancing.

Accounts from the wine regions are unfavorable; the grapes had been injured by the excessive heat, and prices tended upward. Brandies were quiet.

The Moniteur de la Flotte, Government organ, says that Denmark has ceded the island of St. Thomas to the United States.

Count Persigny, the French Ambassador, had arrived in Paris.

The Bourse had been animated and higher, but on the 26th the article in the Moniteur on armaments caused a reaction, and prices declined one-fourth; the Rentes closed flat at 67f. 90c.

SARDINIA.

Le Nord says one of the first acts of the new Ministry will be to put an end to the present Dictatorship, to convoke the Chambers, and present an electoral bill applicable to Lombardy; a dissolution will afterwards take place. In order to effect in the new Chambers the complete fusion of Piedmont and Lombardy, the King will proclaim, and the Parliament will all alternate years at Turin and Milan.

Turin journals say that the Sardinian army, reinforced by recruitments in Lombardy, is to be raised to 100,000 men.

ITALY.

In regard to Garibaldi's position, it is said that he was on the 15th summoned to Brescia by General Dunnlinsky, with whom he had a long confidential interview; that he had a force of 12,000 men, which continued to increase; and that he expressed confidence in the King of Sardinia's not forsaking the national cause.

A letter from Milan says that Garibaldi was contemplating a move from the Alps to the Apennines, from Northern to Central Italy. That there will be a gathering of about 40,000 volunteers in the Romagna, and Garibaldi's corps joined to that of Mamiani; that will form an army capable of securing the Independence of Central Italy, at least against any Roman or Neapolitan forces.

It was rumored that the Duke of Modena proposed to give 2,000 Austrian troops to enable him to enter his States; also that a division of the French army will enter Parma and Tuscany, and another corps the Roman Legation, for the purpose simply of preserving order and allowing a free expression of public opinions.

The Municipality of Florence had formally expressed a desire for annexation to an Italian Kingdom under Victor Emanuel, or that Tuscany should be governed by a Prince of the House of Savoy, in case annexation should be impossible. The Tuscan Government had sent Prof Mayencini, on a special mission to Turin and Paris.

ROME.

The Pontifical Government had issued a circular to its Representatives abroad complaining that the refusal of the dictatorship of the Roman Legations by the King of Sardinia was completely illusory; the nomination of the Marquis D'Azeglio is complained of as a flagrant violation of its neutrality; other acts of usurpation against the legitimate authority of the Pope are quoted, and the circular says they provoked in the Holy Father much indignation at seeing that such encroachments proceeded from the Government of a Catholic King, who had accepted the advice of his august ally to refuse the dictatorship offered him. His Holiness decrees this protest to be communicated to all the European Powers, and trusts they will cooperate in vindicating his rights, for which purpose he invokes their assistance protection.

Baron Brenier, formerly Austrian ambassador at Paris, had arrived at Rome to replace Count Colloredo as Austrian ambassador there.

Great numbers of addresses were being signed in the Romagna against the return of the Clerical Government, and in favor of union with Sardinia. The country had resolved upon keeping up public order, and of repulsing every attack by the Swiss troops in the service of the Pope; also that regular voting should take place in expressing the wishes of the country.

Letters from Rome assert that the principle of an Italian Confederation had been accepted by the Pope; a majority of the Cardinals in conference voted in favor of the Pope accepting the Presidency.

The French ambassador had an extraordinary audience of the Pope of two hours' duration.

Latest by Telegraph.

The Daily News' City Article says the Funds opened on Tuesday with increased firmness, at a fresh advance of one-eighth.

The article in the Moniteur, taking exception to the Military and Naval Expenditure of England, then became known, and a fall of one-quarter occurred in Consols. From this there was no recovery, and the closing quotations were an eighth below Monday. In all the other markets a tendency to improvement was shown in the morning, followed by dullness in the afternoon. The demand for money continues steady, and the leading discount houses are less inclined to take first bills below two and one-half per cent. £180,000 in gold has been withdrawn from the Bank since the last return.

The Paris City official says, after various minor fluctuations, Consols closed at a decline of ¼. The article in the Moniteur occasioned a depressing effect. The continuance of the slight drain of gold from the Bank, which had set in, was likewise against the market. Money was in good supply, and the demand for Silver rather checkered.

The report of France being ready to disarm had a limited influence, the latter being that the Army would not tolerate such a step on an extensive scale.

A Paris telegram, dated Tuesday evening, to the London Post, says Garibaldi has named as his Head Quarters at Zurich, M. von Arnoux, a very enlightened man. It is expected that he will visit Paris before proceeding to his destination. Austria has never refused to meet any Sardinian representative, but will have it upon no familiar footing to accede to the treaty after it shall have been concluded between Austria and France.

The same authority says the Grand Duke of Tuscany had expressed a willingness to abdicate in favor of his son, who promises a constitution, but the Tuscans object to the suggestion of the dynasty.

The Herald has the best authority for stating that the Grand Duke Constantine of Russia will soon visit England.

The official account of the London Docks fire shows that only about fifty casks of wine were destroyed; nearly seventy were damaged by the heat, but no liquor was lost.

The Times says that another French loan will be wanted before long. The same journal replies to the Moniteur's article on the armaments of the two countries, and says it is in many respects deceptive. The Times struggle urges the Sunderland arguing of the navy with Armstrong guns, and increased expenditure in the manufacture of guns by private contract.

THE GREAT CRICKET MATCH IN CANADA.

The United States vs. Canada—The United States the Victors.

From the Toronto Leader, Aug. 2.

The great Cricket Match between the United States and Canada was decided yesterday, in favor of the former. Play was commenced at 11¾ o'clock, Phillipps and Rogerson resuming their bats to the bowling of Hallis and Crossley. Higham acted as wicket keeper, and Newball as long-stop. Both batsmen were doing their duty well, when Rogerson unfortunately was caught by a ball from Hallis, with his leg before wicket, and he had to go out, after having scored but two. This was very much regretted, as from Rogerson's good style of batting, and his general activity, it was hoped he would run up good score. Kennett went in in good spirit, and before long made two runs off a ball from Hallis, following it up heavily with others of a similar nature. He made two also runs off a fine cut at long odds from Hallis. Crossley then took the ball, and soon got rid of Sharp, who did splendid business, fully recovering his character which sank several degrees on the first day. Phillips got a good drive to the off from Marsh, and succeeded in making four runs. He was doing well, and batting very carefully, but, after making eleven runs, was caught at the point by Sharp, and then gave way to Rykert. Rykert was very uncertain for an effort he had got out one run, he was caught with his leg before wicket by a ball from Marsh. Howard then went in, and never was there a better illustration of the old saying, that "one misfortune never comes alone." Without getting a single score his wicket was knocked down by Marsh. James next took the bat, but hardly was he prepared to receive a ball when his wicket was also thrown down by Marsh. Dykes next went in and played well. Parsons and he played nicely together for some time, getting very pretty runs, when finally Parsons had his wicket by a ball from Hallis. Read then went in. Dykes was playing very carefully, making some good single runs. He made an excellent cut to the off by which he got two runs. He also got a splendid square leg from Marsh, driving the ball to the fence, and making three runs. Read was playing freely. His first stroke was a nice cut to cover point, by which he scored one; then he gave a cut to long off, and made another run

THE STATE CONSTITUTION.

The Democratic Policy in the Kansas Convention.

ORGANIZATION OF THE NEW CONSTITUTION.

Special Correspondence of the New-York Times.

LECOMPTON, Kan. Ter., Aug. 2, 1860.

I will transmit to-day a copy of the Constitution, adopted by the late Convention at this place. But, as you will have frequent occasion to refer to it hereafter, I will here state briefly its leading features.

The Constitution will contain about 20,000 words, and will be comparatively brief. It will contain a Bill of Rights, and the usual provisions for the organization of the Government, and the distribution of the powers thereof. The Bill of Rights is copied almost literally from the Constitution of Ohio, and contains no provisions which are not found in the Constitutions of most of the States. It declares that all men are born free and equal, and have certain inalienable rights, among which are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; that all political power is inherent in the people, and that Government is instituted for the protection, security, and benefit of the people; that the right of the people to bear arms in defence of themselves and the State shall not be questioned; that all elections shall be free and equal; that the right of trial by jury shall be inviolate; that no religious test shall be required as a qualification for office, nor any preference be given by law to any religious establishment or mode of worship; that no property qualification must be required of voters or jurors, except that jurors must be residents of the county; that no person shall be imprisoned for debt, unless upon refusal to deliver up his estate for the benefit of his creditors, or in cases of fraud; that no bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts shall ever be passed; that no person shall be transported out of the State for any offence committed within the same; that no conviction shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture of estate; that the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in case of rebellion or invasion the public safety requires it; that no ex post facto law shall ever be passed; that no person's property shall be taken by the State or its authorities without just compensation; that no man's property shall be taken by an incorporated company without just compensation; that no special privileges or immunities shall ever be granted which may not be altered, revoked, or repealed by the same body; that the liberty of the press is inviolate; that no law shall restrain any one from speaking, writing, or publishing his sentiments on any subject, being responsible for the abuse of that liberty; that the people have a right to assemble together in a peaceable manner to consult for the common good, to instruct their representatives, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances; that no hereditary emoluments, honors, or privileges shall ever be established in this State; that no distinction shall ever be made between citizens of the United States residing in this State and the citizens of this State; that no property qualification shall be required for any office of profit

EXTRAORDINARY EXHIBITION.

Execution of a Murderer in New-Orleans.

From the New Orleans Delta, July 30.

A few minutes before 11 o'clock this morning, Julius Myrtar suffered the extreme penalty of the law, by dying on the gallows, within the walls of the Parish Prison. It will be remembered that on Saturday last, the murder of Antoine Lacaze was committed by Myrtar, and that he was arrested and lodged in prison. On Monday he was indicted by the Grand Jury, and on Tuesday was arraigned, tried, convicted and sentenced to be hung. Yesterday morning, in execution of the sentence, Myrtar was brought from his cell to the gallows, and at 11 o'clock was launched into eternity.

Myrtar was a native of Germany, and was about 30 years of age. He was a butcher by trade, and had been employed by Lacaze, who was also a native of Germany, and who kept a butcher's shop on Bayou road. Myrtar was married, and had a family residing in this city. He was a man of rather prepossessing appearance, and his countenance indicated more than ordinary intelligence. He was quiet and unassuming in his demeanor, and conducted himself with propriety during his confinement in prison. He was attended by the Rev. Father Rouquette, who remained with him during the night previous to his execution, and administered to him the consolations of religion. Myrtar was also visited by his wife and family, and by several friends, who remained with him until a late hour last night. He slept but little during the night, and arose at an early hour this morning. He was attended by Father Rouquette, and by Father Hennessy, of the Cathedral, who administered to him the sacrament of the Eucharist, and performed mass in his cell. He was also visited by Father Maurice, of the Church of the Annunciation, who remained with him until the hour of execution arrived.

At 10 minutes before 11 o'clock, Myrtar was brought out of his cell, and conducted to the gallows, which had been erected in the corridor of the prison, between the cells of the condemned and the wall. He was dressed in a suit of black, and wore a white cravat. He walked with a firm step, and ascended the gallows without assistance. He was attended by Father Rouquette, Father Hennessy, and Father Maurice, and by Mr. Hyams, the Sheriff, and Mr. Lewis, the Coroner. He was also attended by Mr. Hennessy, the Deputy Sheriff, who had charge of the execution. The rope was adjusted around his neck, and the cap drawn over his face. He then asked for a glass of water, which was handed to him, and he drank it. He then asked for a cigar, which was also handed to him, and he smoked it. He then asked for a glass of brandy, which was also handed to him, and he drank it. He then asked for a glass of water, which was also handed to him, and he drank it. He then asked for a glass of water, which was also handed to him, and he drank it. He then asked for a glass of water

Major Cross.—How long has Major Cross been under appointment to the Bible Society?

Answer.—Ever since he left the pastorate in Bath. Cross.—Could not answer without consulting your commission in the Quartermaster's Department?

Major Cross.—Major Cross is connected in your department with the Army Register?

Answer.—It was a department of duty on my part to attend to the clerical work. In the Department of the Army Register. It is many years, and the amount of work was piled up very large. In the Department of Bible circulation, for example, there was no one to give it his daily attention. Major Cross is detailed in the Army Register, and the amount of work was piled up very large.

The Alleged Robbery on board the Isaac Newton.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

I see in your paper of Wednesday last an article in relation to my arrest. The facts of the case are these: this Mr. Rasmussen, after arriving here in the boat Isaac Newton, left the boat, went to the Day-street House with his lady, took breakfast there, and then went around the city to the Railroad Depot, &c., lost his pocket-book, and then came back to the boat and said he had left his pocket-book in the boat and in the name of which I had charge. He then accused me of taking it from the room, and upon an examination the charge was proved wholly false, and I was discharged from arrest; and as this report is wholly unjust to me, and my ability to obtain a living depends upon my honesty, will not you and the Albany papers who have published this statement correct the same, and thus vindicate my integrity as a man, and which has never been questioned before. Yours,

JOSEPH JACKSON.

Interesting from Bermuda—The Movement of the Crops during the present Season.

Advices from Bermuda are to July 27.

The Bermudian presents the following statement of the exports of the island products during the season of 1853:

The exportation of the Spring crop of potatoes, is now closed, and it will be interesting to our readers to see what has been the aggregate for the present year of that important article of cultivation:

	Potatoes, barrels
Exported to New-York	25,756
Exported to Baltimore	360
Exported to Boston	375
Exported to Halifax, N. S.	317
Exported to West Indies	10,969
Exported in whaling vessels, &c.	86
Total	38,863

This is a very gratifying result. Compared with the aggregate returns of the same article exported last year, which amounted to 20,625 barrels, it will be seen that the export of potatoes for 1853, shows the extraordinary increase of some 8,000, and it is equal to the quantity exported in the bountiful year of 1827.

The export of onions (another of the vegetable products extensively cultivated here) has reached for the season just closed the quantity of 823,120 pounds; the larger part of which was shipped to the West Indies.

The export of tomatoes for the same season (all to the United States) amounted to 4,092 boxes.

It is also an interesting fact connected with these statistics that more than sixty vessels were engaged in carrying the above-mentioned produce to the places enumerated.

We estimate that the money value of the foregoing exports may be set down as follows:

38,863 bbls. potatoes, at $3	$116,589
823,120 lbs. onions, at 2½ ₩ 100 lbs	10,276
4,092 boxes tomatoes, at 50 cents a box	2,046
Total value	$127,907

MISCELLANEOUS.

OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY:
PROFESSOR WOOD'S
HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Says the St. Louis (Mo.) Democrat: "Below we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are guarantees of truth, the Doctor needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the Press."

BATH, Maine, Jan. 20, 1852.

PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD & CO.:

Gentlemen: Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my children were of the same color. About three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color; and I believe more pork and glossy than it has been, before for twenty five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty-two, has used it with same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any use you may make of the above, with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly yours,

A. C. RAYMOND,
Ex-Mayor of Bath.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 22, 1853.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

PROFESSOR WOOD—Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New-Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to answer as the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINNEY JOHNSON.

ARMORY HOUSE, Ky., Nov. 30, 1852.

PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I would cheerfully be doing you a great injustice not to make known to the world, the wonderful, as well as the unexpected result I have received from the use of your own bottle of your Hair Restorative. After trusing every kind of Restoratives extant, but without success, and finding my head nearly destitute of hair. I was finally induced to try a bottle of your Hair Restorative. Now, candor and justice compels me to announce to whomsoever may read this, that I now possess a new and beautiful growth of hair, which I pronounce richer and handsomer than the original was. I will therefore take occasion to recommend this invaluable remedy to ALL who may feel the necessity of it.

Respectfully yours, REV. S. ALLEN BROCK.

P. S.—This testimonial of my approbation for your valuable medicine (as you are aware of) is unsolicited; but if you think it worthy a place among the rest, insert if you wish, if no', destroy and say nothing.

Yours, &c. Rev. S. A. B.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz.: large, medium and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for $1 per bottle; the medium holds at least 30 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2 a bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.
